NAUTILUS 1969

The Cincinnati Bible Seminary

Foreword

Orbiting the earth, a Russian cosmonaut stated that since he had not seen God, God did not exist. But at Christmas 1968 the crew of Apollo 8 sent back this message from space, "For all the people back on earth, the crew of the Apollo 8 have a message we would like to send to you. In the beginning God created the heaven and earth . . ." This was the year the American astronauts took time to acknowledge their Creator.

This was the year the Seminary sought to acknowledge their Creator in unique ways. During Mission Emphasis Week the "Power Unto Salvation" was witnessed as two souls came to obey Christ in baptism and to acknowledge Him as Redeemer. The first Campus Revival was held which allowed time to be still and acknowledge Him as Sustainer. In every phase of Seminary life whether in work or recreation or study we have sought to acknowledge Him in all our ways.

In Dedication To A Friend Of CBS

Noble Tribble

To know Noble Tribble is to know a friend. We believe that he is the extraordinary ordinary man, a man of God and a man worth knowing. To this one we gratefully dedicate the 1969 Nautilus.

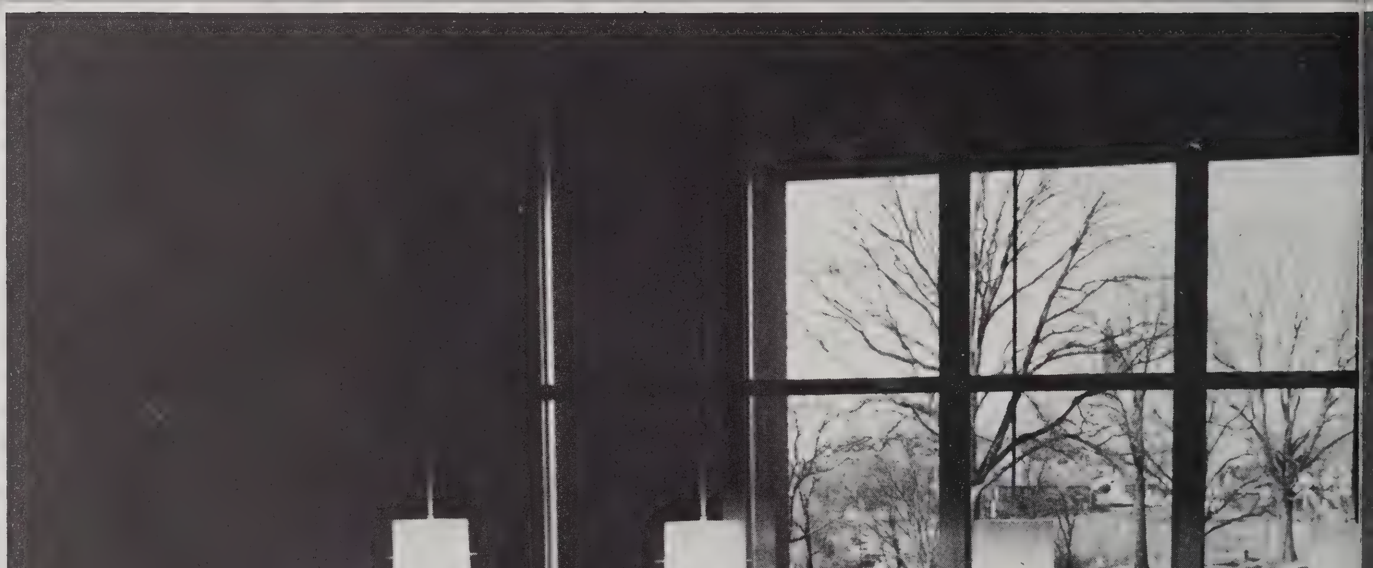
Noble Tribble, presently serving as minister of the First Christian Church, Charlottesville, Virginia, was born in Bloomfield, Missouri. His college education was received in the University of Michigan, the University of Kansas, Wheaton College, and the Cincinnati Bible Seminary. Before coming to the Seminary, he taught band and orchestra for ten years in Bloomfield. During this time he served as a registered pharmacist.

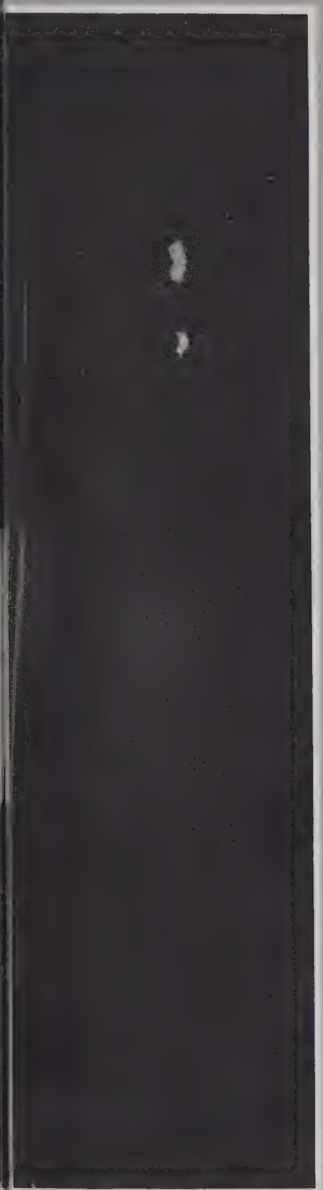
After his graduation from the Seminary he became State Evangelist for the Virginia Evangelizing Fellowship (1947-1951). Then he returned to The Cincinnati Bible Seminary to serve nine years as Promotional Director and a friendly counselor for students. He resigned in 1960 to go to Danville, Virginia, helping to establish a new church there.

In 1962 he changed his place of ministry to the new Tangelo Park Christian Church (now West Oak Ridge) in Orlando, Florida. There he baptized Sharon Tyler, Sharon Colocci, and Janice Snow — who are familiar names to students on campus. Several other members of that youth group enrolled in Atlanta Christian College.

Mr. Tribble is known as a writer, too. At the Seminary he edited the Report. Currently he writes for the Lookout and the Junior Life. His column, "Cross Power," began in the Lookout in the December 30, 1962 issue. His advice now appears under the heading, "Cross Power Solutions to Current Questions." In the Junior Life he has been the mind behind "Ask Uncle Noble" since October 4, 1964.

Youth who are with him in church camp are drawn to him; adults who work with him admire him; and we are all blessed when our lives touch his. How many he has influenced for Christ in his many contacts — only eternity will reveal.





Going on to Perfection

To seek the perfection of our Heavenly Father should be the goal of every Christian (Matthew 5:48). The Graduate School was created to help the Christian worker in the pursuit of this goal. For years it struggled along in rather limited facilities. However, in the spring of 1969 the Graduate School moved into the new Edwin G. Crouch Memorial Building. With this wonderful new facility the Graduate School can now better equip students to go on to perfection.

Dr. Lewis Foster guides the Graduate School towards greater heights. As the world situation steadily grows worse, more and more Christian teaching is being sought. This is true, not only by Bible College students, but by students from other universities and colleges. This year the Graduate School enrollment is up to eighty-three. The completion of the Edwin G. Crouch Memorial Library and Graduate School is just one of the milestones that has been reached. Dr. Foster is excited over his move to the new building and enjoys showing a visitor around his office. Besides guiding the Graduate School, Professor Foster is in demand as a lecturer, writer, and minister of the Gospel. He also is serving on the General Editor Committee, which is now translating the Bible into Contemporary English. Even though Professor Foster is a busy man, he still takes time to talk with those who come to him for advice.

KEPT IN OUR MEMORIES

Miss Claudia Moore, who served the Seminary as librarian from 1966 to May, 1968, died on September 6, 1968, in Altoona, Pennsylvania, her home town, where she was an active member of the First Church of Christ.

Miss Moore's love for her Lord is known by those who had contact with her. Her last years of life on this earth were very happy ones as she found her place of service in the Seminary library. The Lord was her love and the library was her labor.

For this labor she had prepared herself well, having been trained at Milligan College, Juniata College, Millersville State College, and Peabody College, where she received the Master of Science degree in library science.

Even though her period of service at the Seminary was brief, her winsome personality won for her a lasting place in the hearts of students and faculty. She loved her work and gave herself so unselfishly to it that only a few knew how seriously ill she was. Her sister, Velma, wrote of her, "Her happiest and most fruitful hours were those spent at The Cincinnati Bible Seminary. Her saddest moments came when she realized that her state of health would not permit her to return this fall."

To others it was necessary for her to pass her responsibilities. She did it with a humble spirit that was hers that they might be able to do it better than she. We believe that the Lord had another service for her to render for Him in a higher realm, but we are all thankful for the time that He let her life touch ours for His sake. She shall be kept in our memories.

Walking in His Paths

The school year of 1968 — 1969 has come and gone. The memories of the past year are still fresh in our minds, but with the passing of time they will become dim. Pictures aid us in recalling many wonderful occasions. It is for this purpose that yearbooks were created. Read the following pages carefully, and remember them well. They include the professors, activities, studies — everything that made the past year one worthy of memory.

Acknowledging Him In Their Leadership

W. W. Perry, President of The Cincinnati Bible Seminary.

Woodrow W. Perry, President of The Cincinnati Bible Seminary, has shown admirable leadership qualities through the past twenty-one years. Under his direction the school has continued to grow, as has been remarkably underscored by the completion of the Edwin G. Crouch Memorial Library. His zealous and unselfish labors on behalf of The Cincinnati Bible Seminary have reaped rewards for the work of the Lord through the preaching of the many able graduates who have studied in these halls.

A man of progress.

He is ably assisted by his secretary, Lucille Miller, and Mr. Durham's aid, Deanna Evans.

Wayne Smith makes a suggestion before the assembled trustees with Dr. Nutter presiding.

The Cincinnati Bible Seminary is extremely fortunate to have trustees who have taken on the awesome job of governing and overseeing this institution. May the will of God be revealed as they humbly make the administrative decisions.

Professor W. W. Winter faithfully performs the job of Academic Dean of the Bible College.

Mrs. Bartle works as Mr. Winter's secretary, finishing the hardest work with ease.

Mr. Earl Sims has the big job as the school registrar, and his loving wife aids in his secretary jobs.

Administration Faces

Mr. Baumgardner is the school bursar and does a fine job.

The Seminary Administration Building is a hive of activity. Not only is it on the route between the Coach House and the Classroom Building, but also it has a path pursued by troubled students seeking the problem-solving registrar or the efficient bursar. And right in the center is that familiar sign: "Out of money." It seems so much in place for Seminary students. Also, the Christian service director's office door stands ajar inviting a student to discuss his project. At the other end of the hall the president is ready to assist with counseling.

Mr. Dale Adams keeps hopping with the job of being the alumni director.

The students keep Mr. Durham busy as the Christian service director.

Mrs. E. Wayne Berry and Mrs. W. W. Perry hold down the fort in the mailing room.

Mrs. Jerry Hall does various jobs, such as counting money in the business office.

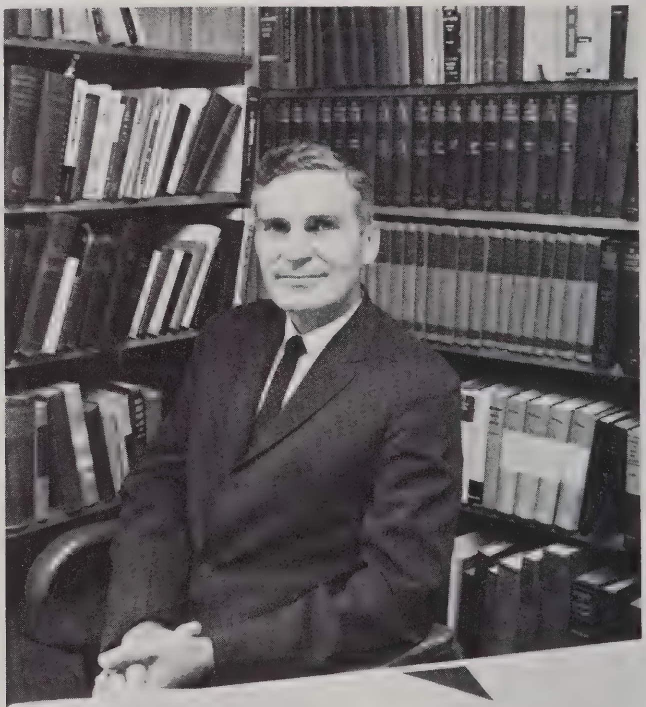
The Dusenberrys have served CBS faithfully as head of the maintenance crew and head of the bookstore.

Richard Burton, Dean of Students, counsels with his secretary.

What Do Deans Do?

What will Stone Manor do without Cathy Broady?

Sherwood Smith, Dean of Men, always has time to listen.



Mrs. Edna Mae Miller, Dean of Women, challenges the girls to grow in grace and knowledge.

Bob Gearhart keeps law and order in Alumni Hall.

What do deans do? What do deans do? Sometimes it is good to know. Sometimes it would have been better never to have seen the inside of their offices. Deans have big ears. If you'd be dean for a day, you'd find how much their ears are exercised in that very needed art of being a good listener. Deans really do have hearts. They are our parents. They feel with us and for us — though we wonder when the undesired sentence comes: "You're campused, Helen" or "Here's a one-way ticket to the D.C." People who love must discipline. What do deans do? They do everything a friend does, tempered with the understanding of a parent.

Dusey's crew takes a break every once in a while.

The Labor Is Plenteous

"Don't you have any patient, Teresa?"

"Marcie, do you need any help?"

"Is this the way you want us, Mr. Sims?"

(Top) Not only can they cook, but they can smile also. (Middle left) The girls ask, "Do you need anything typed?" (Middle right) Tom distributes the mail. (Bottom) Pam, Mrs. Hall and Becky smile as they take your money.

But Laborers Are Few.

Trusting the Lord
We Build
For the Future

Victor Maxey, our librarian, with his assistant, Mrs. Burton.

I just can't stand these crowded conditions any longer.

John has little trouble studying in the old library.

Many to work, but little space.

Standing room only.

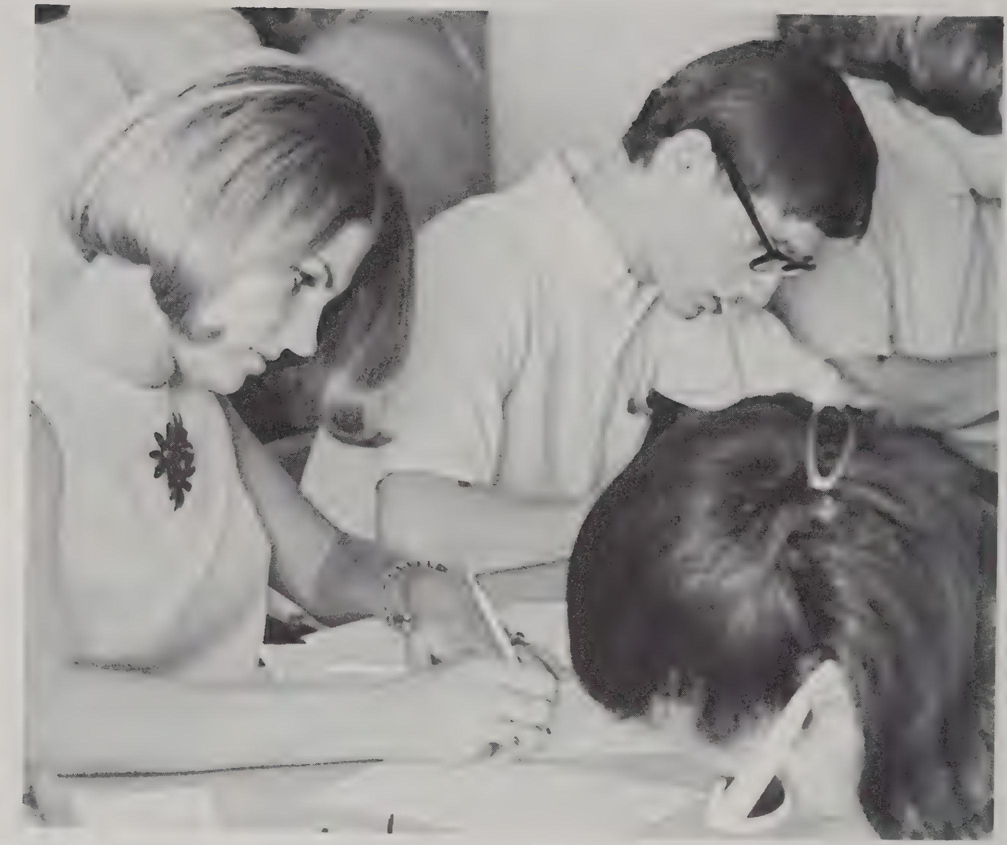
Our new library building.

David points out the many shelves available.

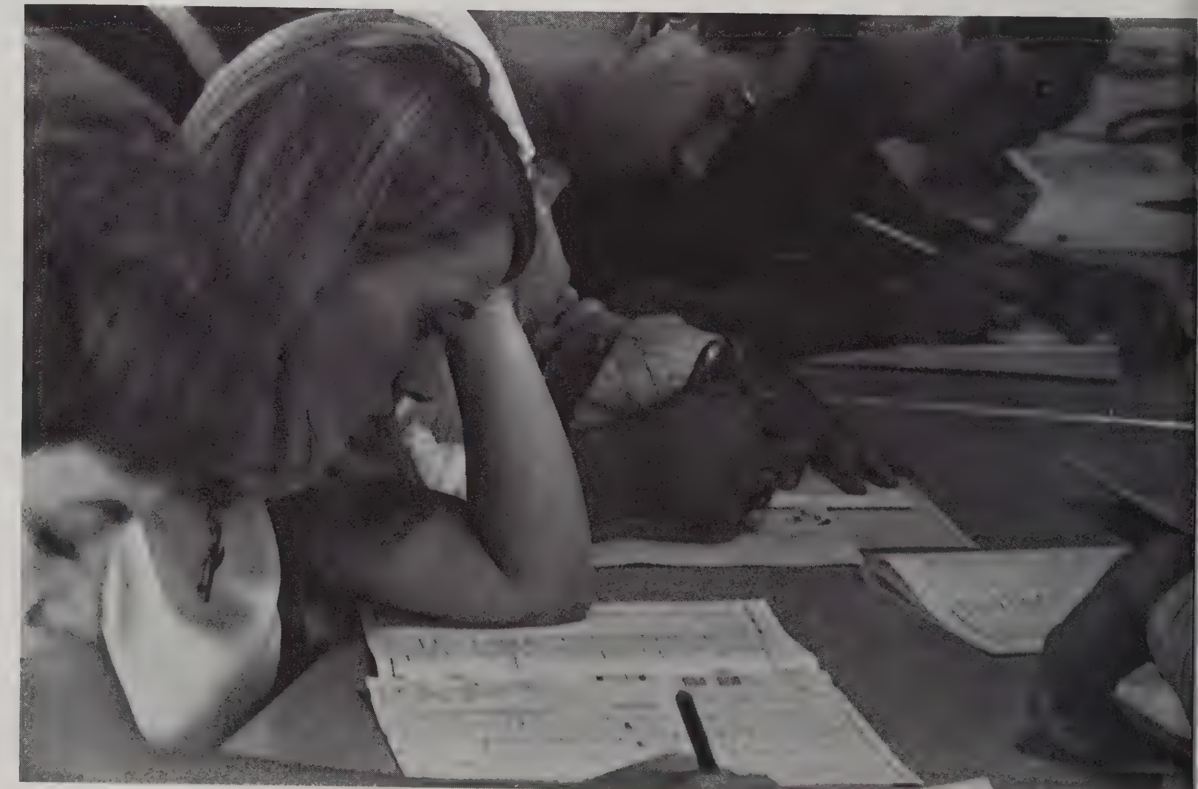
Would you believe, looking for a book?

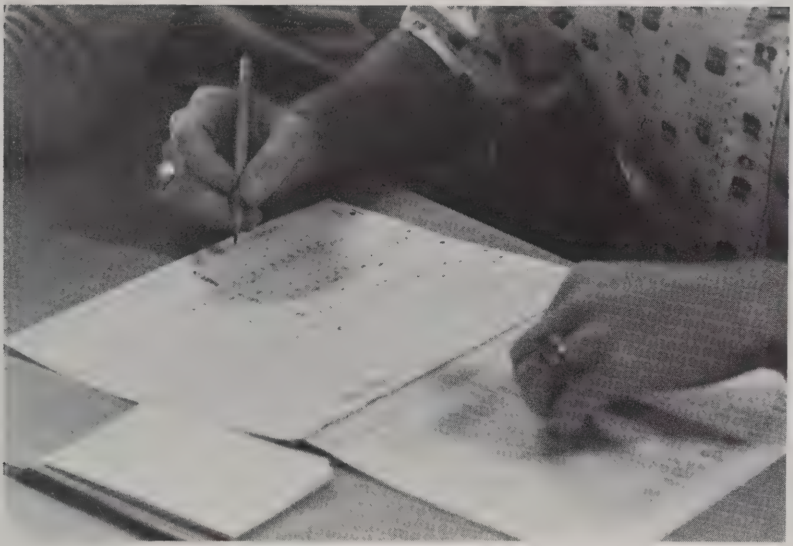
Paul enjoys the quietness afforded by the new library.

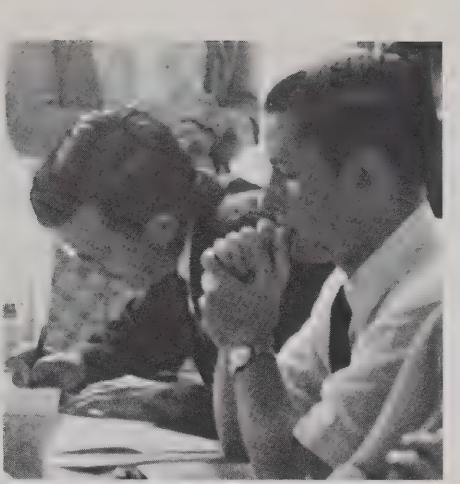
The new library will serve many who come in the future.



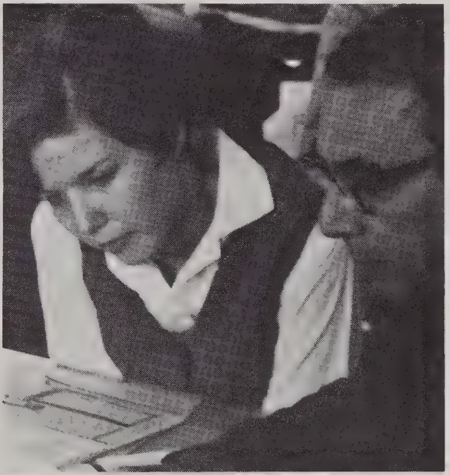
Thinking . . . Testing . . . Tackling

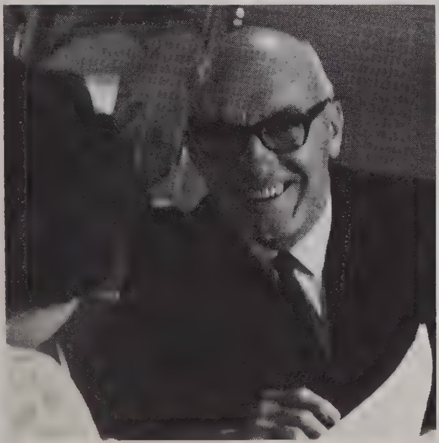






The time of testing inevitably came on September 5, 1968. Test booklets and answer sheets were given out and the thinking began. Some tests were not so bad; others gave some trouble. With the turning in of the tests the end was not yet in sight, for the registration process had just begun. Much thought, such as Bob Troyer gave, went into these schedules for it was important as freshmen to get off to a good start. The professors were there to help even though they may look a little disappointed that they can't talk you into taking their subject. Professor Jim Smith must not have gotten another Hebrew student. Mary Anderson studied over all that Mr. Winter pointed out, and Mr. Koerner looked on ready to give aid. Wayne Kelbert worked out the final details of his schedule. Finally to the delight of Mr. Eynon the freshman had a schedule he was eager to tackle.





Seniors Bud, Wayne, Curt, and Tom discussed last minute details.

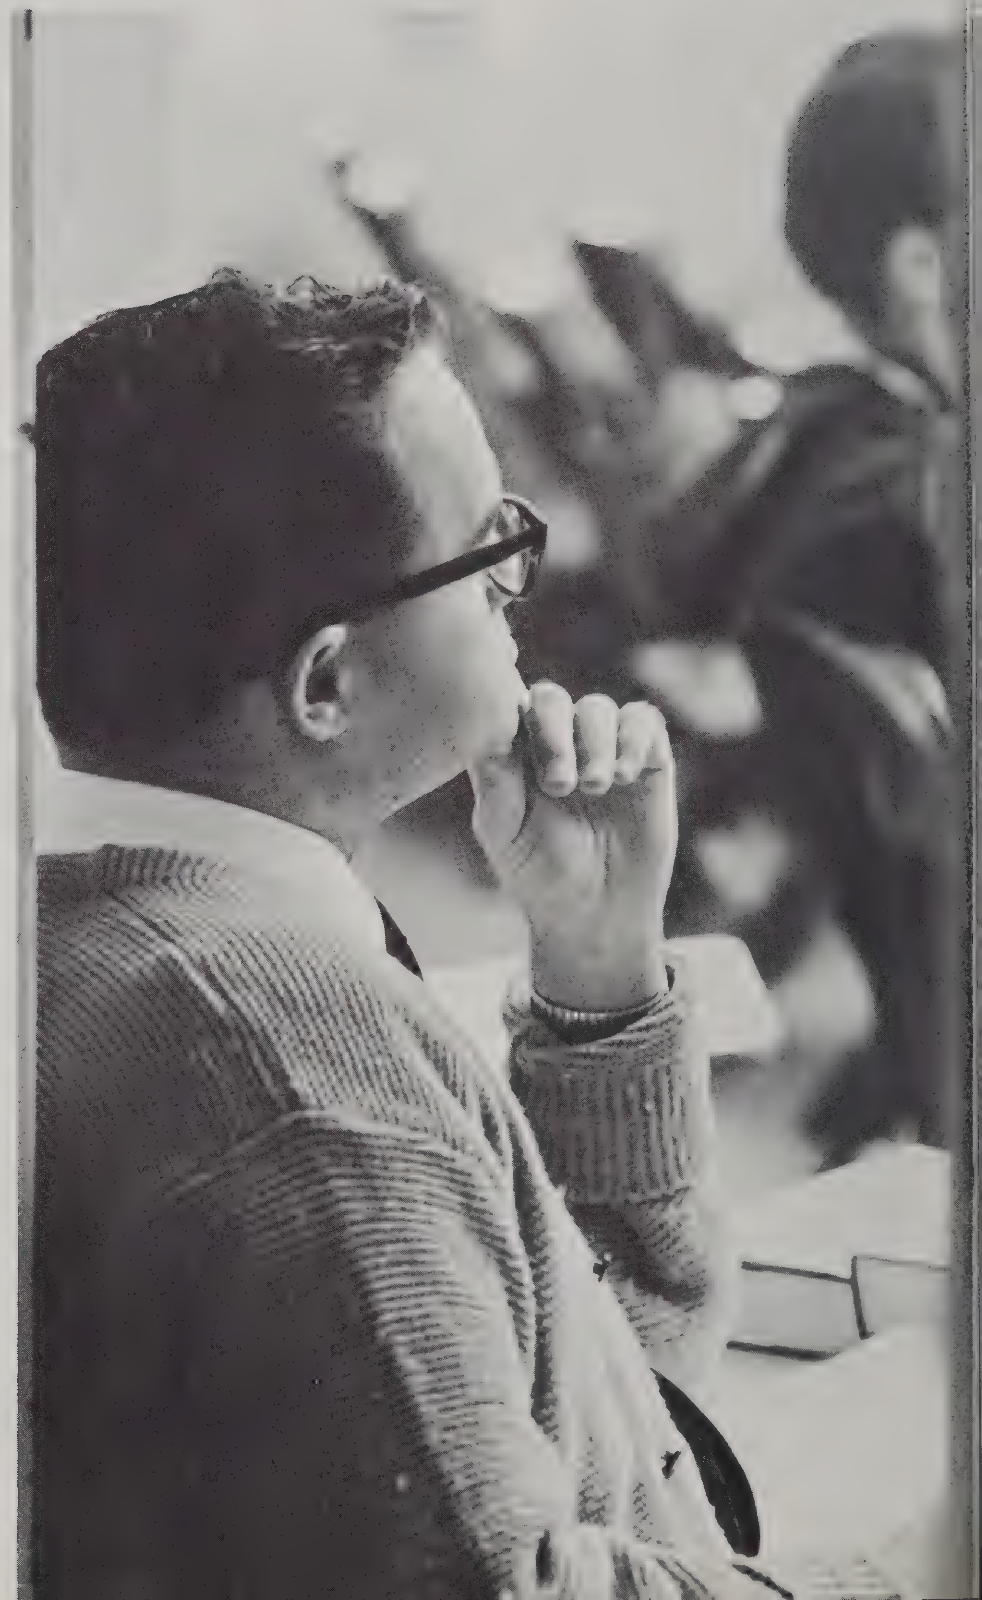
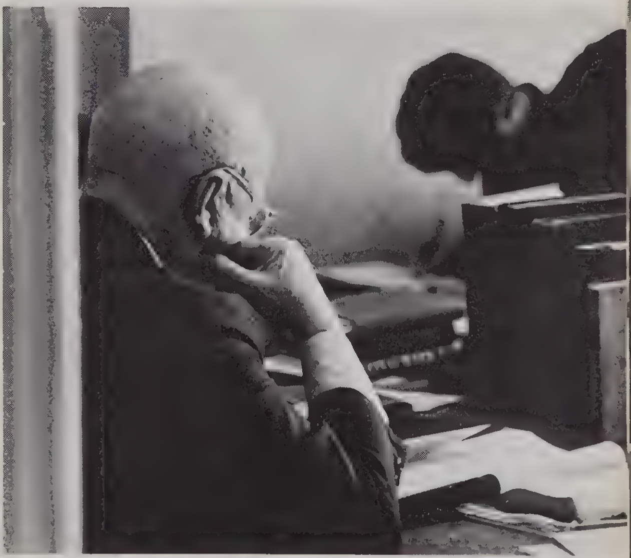
The Bible Inspires Our Thoughts

Professor R. C. Foster is an example of how the Bible lives in man's heart.

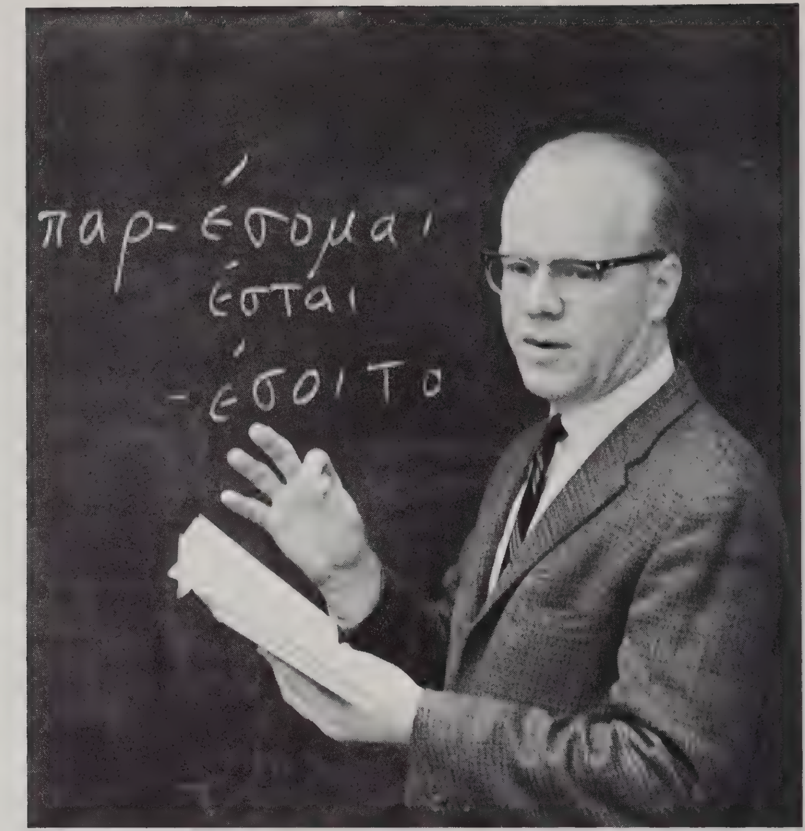


Wonder what great truth Mr. Friskney has found?

George Mark Elliott, a man in tune with God.



Mr. Foster catches a few moments of study while testing students.



Mr. Sims makes Greek more bearable.

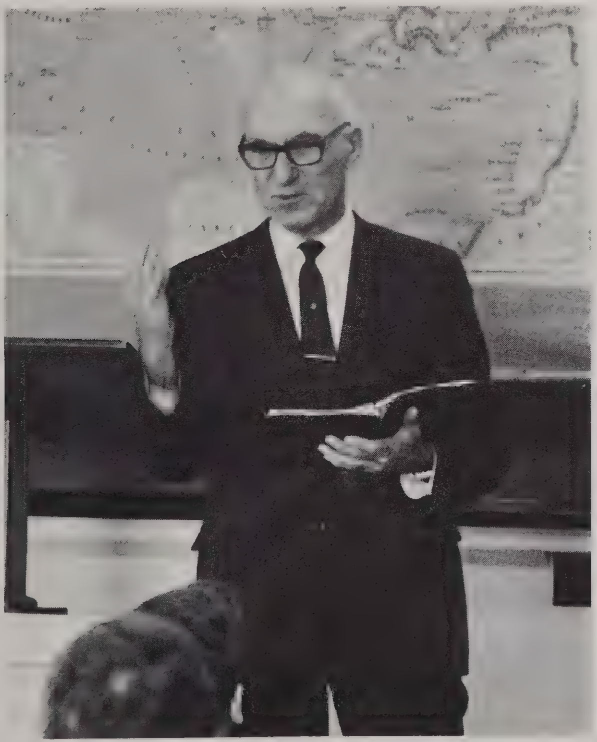
Their Hands Lead Us

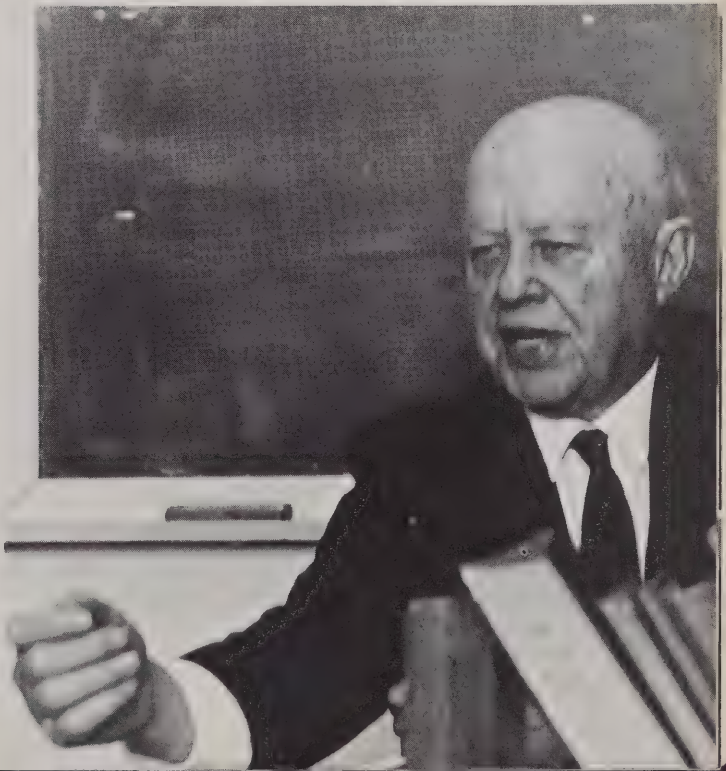
Make sure you got that one, Doyle.

Mr. Smith, "drives home" a point!

Into Paths of Righteousness

Would you believe Mr. Eynon is also a poet?

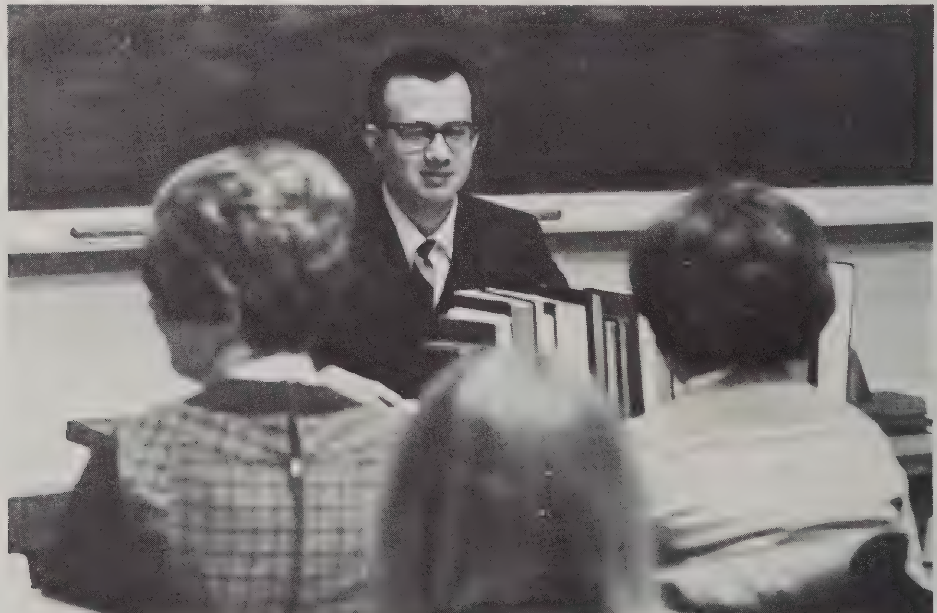




Teaching Is a Challenge To All Ages

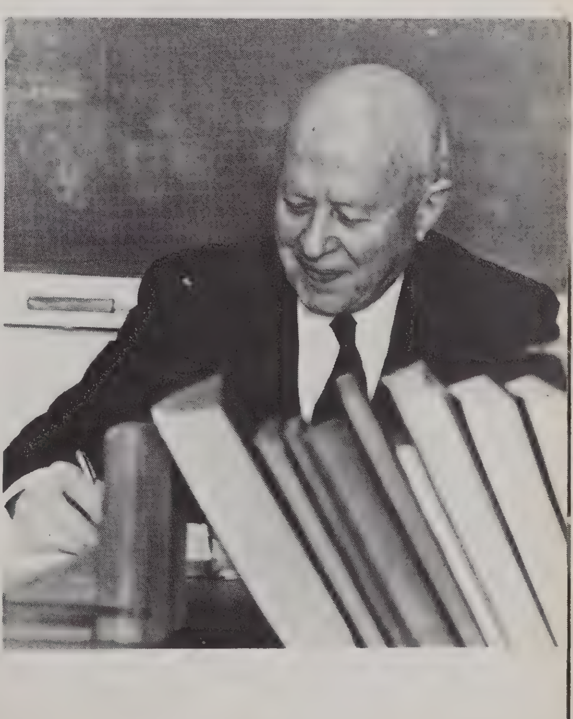
Mr. Foster gives "life" to the life of Jesus.

Andrew, which is harder to take Greek or to teach it the first year?



"With the ancient is wisdom: and in length of days understanding" (Job 12:2); yet, youth often brings freshness to any task. The Seminary is very fortunate to have men of differing ages and amounts of experience. Men like R. C. Foster, who brings us the knowledge of a lifetime; men like W. W. Winter, who presents us the fruits of his prime; and, also, men like Andrew Paris, who demonstrates the eagerness of youth. From their ranks we receive inspiration, example, and instruction.

Organization is the secret to Mr. Winter's success.



But, Bud, I only want to see it.

"Society for All People" was the theme for this year's Talent Night sponsored by the Junior Class. "The Indians are coming!" screamed Mary, grabbing Dale around the neck. This line brought on one of the various acts. Many more acts were to follow. This viewer could not help but think how appropriate the theme was. The talent displayed during this evening would be used to carry out the Lord's mission. In seeking the lost, we are taken into all the different societies of the world. All societies must be reached with the gospel. The evening closed with a few remarks by Marvin Pospisil, the class president.

Dale and Mary, our emcees.

Pam leads the girls in one of their delightful numbers.

The Day Our Parents Came

Parents were everywhere.

After a hectic day, food tastes good.

What do you mean I broke the camera?

Pictures Tell It Like It Is

Nautilus Picture Day dawned like any ordinary day. The Nautilus staff had done its usual brilliant (?) job of planning the affair so everyone was set for smooth sailing. But the fates took a hand, and the photographer was delayed forty minutes in coming. The time schedule was "kaput," and before long, members of the staff could be seen running around like chickens with their heads cut off. Nevertheless, all the pictures were finally taken, and they truly tell it like it is.

Making layouts is fun for Kathy and Becky.

But Mr. Friskney why can't I blow down this picture?

Time Out for Revival

Have you lost your first love? Have you lost your love for preaching? These were questions asked during the first Campus Revival held at The Cincinnati Bible Seminary on February 19 and 20. Wayne Shaw from Lincoln Christian College exhorted us to rededicate our lives to the task of preaching the Word to every creature. The revival was warmly received as each student earnestly probed his life to see if he had "The Love of Preaching."

Lectures Include Old Testament Crucial Periods, Biblical Theology

Dr. Harris gives a few informal comments.

Dr. Elliott tells the students that God has not changed.

The Cincinnati Bible Seminary Lectureship this year featured Dr. R. Laird Harris. Having received his Ph.D. from Dropsie College, he has taught at the Faith Theological Seminary of Philadelphia and the Covenant Theological Seminary of St. Louis. He has traveled extensively as visiting lecturer, including a tour of Japan and Korea and has received much honor by his writings. His subject was "Crucial Periods in Old Testament History: (1) The Patriarchal Period, (2) The Period of Conquest, (3) The Period of Restoration."

On April 20 the Seminary was honored by the presence of Dr. A. G. Elliott, Vice-Principal of Churches of Christ Bible College in New South Wales, Australia. He traveled a long distance to speak three times in the Seminary Chapel on the subject, "Biblical Theology Today."

The professors and students have several questions for Dr. Harris.

Conference, 1968

Using the theme, "God's Truth Endures Forever," the 1968 Conference on Evangelism began with two inspiring messages given by Douglas Dickey and James Smith. Speakers, panels, and students all worked together to make this year's Conference what it was. The thoughtful and practical devotions given by Olin Hay appropriately started each session. The whole Conference this year seemed to be moving towards the dedication of the new Edwin G. Crouch Memorial Building. The message, "The Battlefield," delivered by Professor R. C. Foster will long be remembered by those who were present. The Conference also had another interesting feature this year. The program included a father and son team. James Smith delivered the opening address, and his father, Fred Smith, challenged the Conference with his closing sermon.

The season of 1968 — 1969 for the Golden Eagles began with a young team, but sportsmanship became the byword as the six veteran and five "freshmen" members learned the cooperation necessary for teamwork. Coach Richardson and Coach Goble felt, with the experience of this year, the team will score better in the winning column next year. Both coaches not only taught the team to play basketball, but also showed them the Christian character they should display on the floor. Each game provided an opportunity for fans and team alike to share in team spirit.

Jolene Wasson Queen For 1969

Homecoming was an exciting time. Tension mounted as both candidates and spectators awaited the announcement of the new Queen. The Queen must be a member of the senior class and is chosen by the student body. The moment arrived. Over the microphone came the declaration, "The Homecoming Queen for 1969 is Miss Jolene Wasson."

Mrs. David Morley, the 1968 Queen, was present to give a rosebud to the attendants and to pass the crown down to the 1969 Queen along with a dozen red roses. The class attendants were Beth Foster, freshman; Judy Oplinger, sophomore; Daun Layman, junior; and Donna Lawrence, senior.

Byron Cartwright, accompanied by Judy Longworth, sang tribute to the Queen. After tears were shed and honor given to the winners, the Queen and her court walked gracefully off the floor. Soon after the ballroom transformed back into a basketball court and the game resumed. It was a night to remember.

Classes are offered to all students to acquaint them with the history of hymns and the men who wrote them. Students are given the opportunity to participate in the Concert Choir, Conference Choir, Madrigals, Brass Choir, and ensembles. The Conference Choir was organized this year to take the place of the Seminary Chorus. This gives more students an opportunity to participate in singing praises to God. Many are kept busy using their individual talents for the Lord on week-ends. That this field is expanding is evident in that eight seniors gave recitals this year to complete their degree requirements. Many more are needed in this area, and the Music Department stands ready and able to serve those interested.

Conference For Women

Mrs. Irby introduces speaker, Mrs. Eynon.

The Mu Rho Sigma, the wives of married students and faculty, again this year sponsored the Conference for Christian Women, held Saturday May 3. This year's theme was "Let Your Manner of Life Be Worthy of the Gospel of Christ." Speakers such as Mrs. Daniel Eynon, Mrs. LaVerne Morse, Mrs. J. B. Miller, Mrs. Paul Wiener, and Mrs. Bruce Shaffer speaking on topics such as "Your Reasonable Service," "The Teaching Tongue," "The Unruly Tongue," and "The Comforting Tongue" carried out the theme well. Music, both group and special, the speakers, and Christian fellowship made this a truly memorable day in the lives of all who attended, and they were indeed challenged to make their lives worthy of the gospel of Christ.

It was a good meeting.

The women enjoy the sessions.

Mrs. Richardson registers the visitors.

Hearts Have a Day

February 13, 1969, was the day, six-thirty was the hour, and the Heart's Day Banquet was the event. After hours of preparation the couples were off to the beautiful new Stouffer's Inn for an enjoyable evening. Emcee Charles Stiles made sure that there was never a dull moment as the group enjoyed group singing led by Mark and Vicki Koerner, special music, and table talk. Janice Snow and Dale Bunn reigned as queen and king, and Daun Layman and Bill Oliver were their attendants. The inspiring message of Thomas Wyatt convinced all present that "The Greatest of These Is Love."

Oh, Gary, sit down.

1969's

Visitors are always welcome on the campus of the Seminary, and they receive the red-carpet treatment on "On Campus for Christ" day. Hundreds of young people choose one of the three days of "On Campus" — Indiana Day, Kentucky Day, and Ohio Day — to make their first visit to the campus. On these days our visitors get a small taste of what the Seminary is like, and many make their decision to make the Seminary campus a part of their life.

The Cincinnati Bible Seminary is proud to acknowledge the two drama troops, "The Watchmen" and "The King's Company." These two troops, under the direction of Mrs. Katt, have done much to spread the Gospel throughout many of the area churches. Making their own costumes and props, "The Watchmen" and "The King's Company," led by Bobby Dozier and Dan Katt, respectively, have successfully performed several plays during the school year. Some of the dramatic productions among their repertoire include "Runnin' Man," "The Children Are Listening," and "The Gardener Who Was Afraid of Death."

Also featured during the year was the play "He Came Seeing," under the direction of Barbara Curie. This drama production, along with "The Gardener Who Was Afraid of Death," was presented for a high school convocation in Rising Sun, Indiana, and during "On Campus for Christ" and was enjoyed by all.

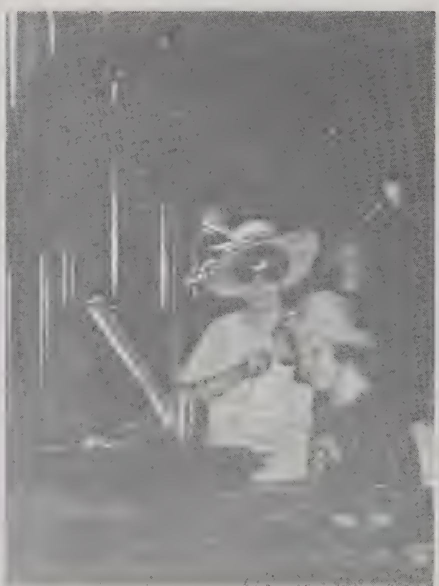
The Night CBS Went to the Moon

Senior Night was out of this world!

"Dale, I've waited four years for this ."

How sweet it isn't!



"Oh no, I've been had!"

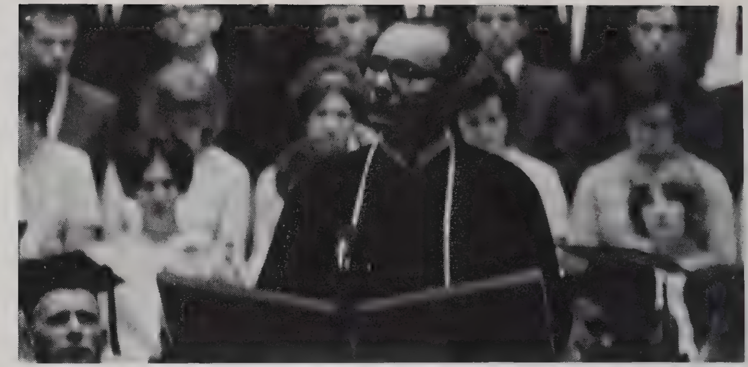
To R. J. Kidwell and his family in appreciation for the sacrifices made for the class of 1969.

Our Zealous Sponsor

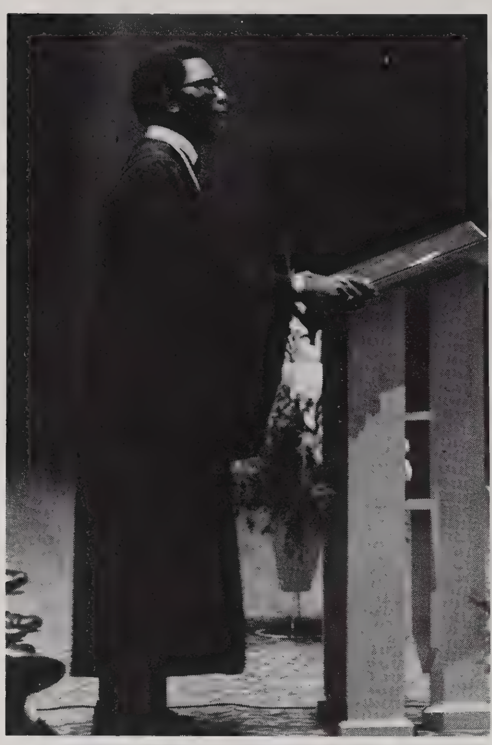
During his first year as a teacher at The Cincinnati Bible Seminary Mr. R. J. Kidwell was chosen as our class sponsor. Throughout the past four years Mr. Kidwell has been a true inspiration to all of us. His office door has always been open to serve those students who sought help.

Mr. Kidwell is, perhaps, best known for his preaching ability. His sermons in chapel are always anticipated with much eagerness. They truly display the fervent zeal of a man who loves to preach the gospel and serve the needs of his people.

Our Task Is



"My Task: Think A While"



"My Task: Pray A While."

"My Task: Dream A While"

To Acknowledge Him

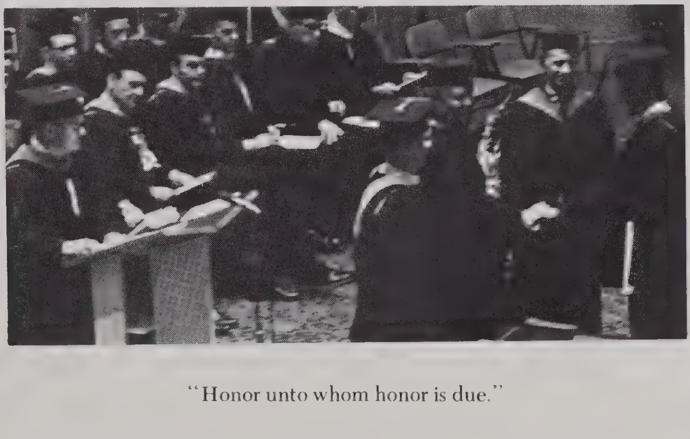
"Sherriell E. Storey gives the Baccalaureate message."

The Conference Choir helped to make the Commencement Service more inspirational.

Hearts were stirred by the inspiration of the Commencement Activities. Laughter and joy mingled with tears were the visible signs of the inward conflicting emotions found within the graduating seniors. Although the preaching during these several days was powerful, and the wonderful relief from study began to pervade the weary spirits of the students, yet we knew that some of us were separating, perhaps never to experience the same earthly companionship.

The beginning of Commencement Week started with Senior Night on the evening of May 21. Bright and early the following morning Lockland Christian Church was the location of the Junior-Senior Breakfast. Here Al Holzbauer inspired each one as he voiced those challenging words, "Onward Christian Soldiers." That Thursday evening Sherriell E. Storey preached the word from the prophet Isaiah during the Baccalaureate Serice at the Chapel. At the Commencement breakfast the graduates were welcomed into the Alumni Association by Dale Adams. With the conclusion of the breakfast, the degrees were bestowed and another good year came to a close.

The rewards for the victorious.



"Honor unto whom honor is due."

This was an awesome, but joyous occasion.

God Be With You Till . . .

"Graduates leaving to serve the Lord."

EXIT

With These Along the Way

The laughter, the tears, the sighs, the successes — some are kept in secret parts of the heart while others are shared with those along the way. A moment of joy or a moment of sorrow and one looks for the familiar face of a friend. Together they confide, counsel, pray. Both rise strengthened to continue the journey of life because of the moments shared — moments never to be repeated except for the backward glance of memory.

Certificate Recipients Know Christ

Certificate recipients are students who have met the requirements of Bible school teachers, minister's assistants, workers in the field of church music, or other areas of Christian work. These students may have some limitations, but there is much value to the student whose enrollment is limited. If the student decided to continue his or her education, the credits earned may be applied toward the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degrees.

The Associate of Science degree was introduced at the beginning of the 1968 — 1969 school year. This is a two-year program and is similar to that of the past three certificate programs. These were the English Bible Certificate, the Minister's Assistant Certificate, and the Church Music Certificate. The new Associate of Science degree aids in qualifying students for the work in the churches they serve.

The Associate of Science degree with a major in English Bible has the purpose of preparing students for general Christian service. Foundational courses are in Christian Evidences and Evangelism. There also are a rich variety of Bible and theology courses required.

The student who receives the Associate of Science degree with a major in Church Music is prepared to lead in the field of music in the local congregation. Music requirements include four hours of applied music, either vocal or instrumental (piano or organ), as well as participation in choir, ensembles, and attainment recitals.

In the Associate of Science degree with a major in Commercial Science, young women students are prepared to render service as ministers' assistants or church secretaries.

With Heartfelt Thanks

Advertising is the life blood of any yearbook. We take this opportunity to offer heartfelt thanks to all those churches, students, and merchants who contributed to make the 1969 Nautilus. In the years to come, each page will bring back fond memories of our days at The Cincinnati Bible Seminary. So it is to all of our friends we dedicate the following pages with the sincere desire that they will be helpful in the future.

First Christian Church

Miami, Oklahoma

Sends Congratulations to Her

10th C.B.S. Grad

Russ ('40) and Alta ('38) Ministers. David Stauffer, Assistant Minister. First Christian Church, Miami, Oklahoma.

Bill Oliver's home church, the First Christian Church of Miami, Oklahoma, sends its congratulations to Bill as he passes this milestone in his life. Bill is not the first Timothy to come from this church, and, the Lord willing, he will not be the last. His Christian character has done much to benefit The Cincinnati Bible Seminary. As president of the Junior Class he demonstrated outstanding leadership ability. During his senior year this "preacher boy" has been one of the campus spiritual leaders, taking an active part in promoting the campus revival, acting as devotional leader on his dormitory floor, and holding a youth ministry at the First Christian Church in Springfield, Ohio. On behalf of the First Christian Church, Russell Martin and David Stauffer extend their praise and support as they ask God's blessings to be richly bestowed upon this young preacher.

Herb Woollard

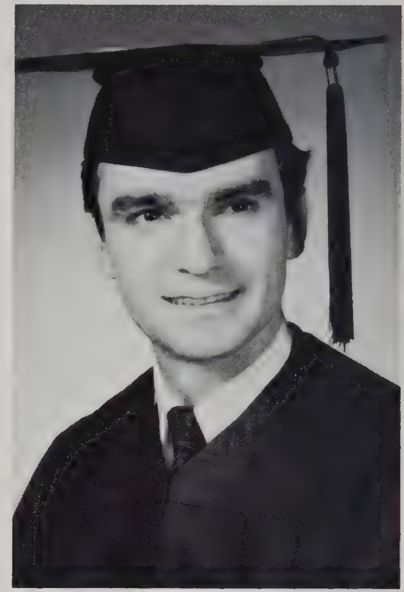
The Miamisburg Church of Christ Announces Their Congratulations to Herb Woollard

The Miamisburg Church of Christ is proud to express a sincere and warm wish of success to one of their young preachers, Herb Woollard at this time of graduation. May both he and the entire graduating Class of 1969 catch the vision of world evangelism for Christ as they depart from these halls of learning to serve their Lord. The Miamisburg congregation prays that Herb will be an able soul-winner in this world of sin and darkness.

All These Churches

Jolene Wasson

The South Salem Church of Christ of Union City, Indiana is proud and very much pleased to send their best wishes and congratulations to the graduating class of 1969 and especially to their own Jolene Wasson. Her cheerfulness and wonderful personality have helped to make The Cincinnati Bible Seminary the excellent school that it is. May the Lord bless her abundantly.



Korwyn Kearns

At this time of graduation, the Crestwood Christian Church of St. Louis, Missouri, takes the opportunity to express to Korwyn Kearns and his classmates their sincere approval of a job well done.

In recognition of the milestone which Tina Jo Talbott has passed, her home church, the Westview Christian Church of Albany, Kentucky, places this word of encouragement and praise above her picture for future generations. Keep the faith and be strong in the Lord, for He is strong and able to keep you from all harm.

Tina Jo Talbott

Mary Jane Nickel has brought much honor to her home church, the Church of Christ of East Dayton, Ohio. It is their prayer that the knowledge she has gathered will be put to beneficial work in the kingdom of the Lord. As she graduates, the entire congregation send their best wishes to her and to her fellow classmates.

Judy Longworth

Buchanan Church of Christ Sends Congratulations To Judy Longworth

The Buchanan Church of Christ sends their congratulations to Judy Longworth. She has been actively supported by this congregation in her past years here at The Cincinnati Bible Seminary, and it is certain that their trust in her has been well placed. As she graduates this spring, they wish for her success and happiness in whatever area she serves her Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Praise Comes From Corinth, Kentucky

Donna Lawrence

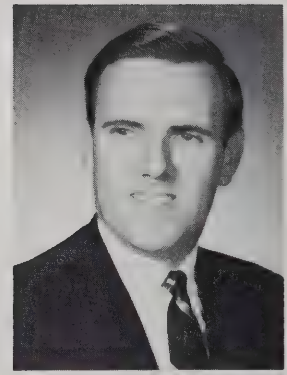
From the Blue Grass State comes the sound of joy at the graduation of two fine Christian seniors, Donna Lawrence and Doris Henry. The Lystra Church of Christ claims these two young ladies with much affection and warmth. Their Christian witness has been evident to all who know them here at The Cincinnati Bible Seminary. Upon their graduation, the entire congregation sends to them their hearty words of encouragement and exhortation to carry on the work of the Lord with fervor and enthusiasm.

Doris Henry

Ben Davis Creek Christian Church Rushville, Indiana

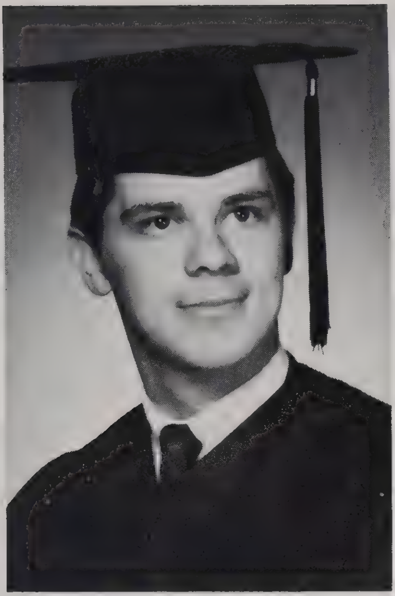
Victor Slutz

Victor Slutz is one of the many who receive degrees this Spring. The Christian Church in Rushville, Indiana is very proud of Victor and want to extend their wishes that he will continue to serve the Lord in his future years with all humbleness and meekness as he stays steadfast to the Gospel.



Charles Carter

The Rushville Church of Christ, Rushville, Indiana desires to extend their congratulations and best wishes to their graduate Charles Carter. As their faithful minister he has led them carefully in the paths of righteousness. Their prayer is that he will continue in the calling of the ministry and bless the Lord with his labors.



We, of the First Christian Church of Covington, Virginia, are indeed proud of two who will be receiving degrees this year. They are Susan Russell and Wayne Lowen. May their service to the Lord continue to be an effective witness wherever their paths lead.

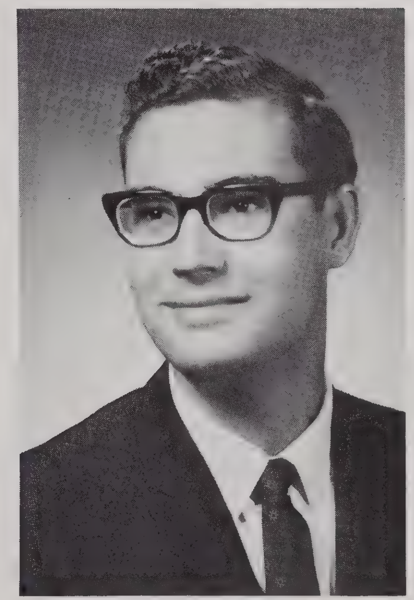
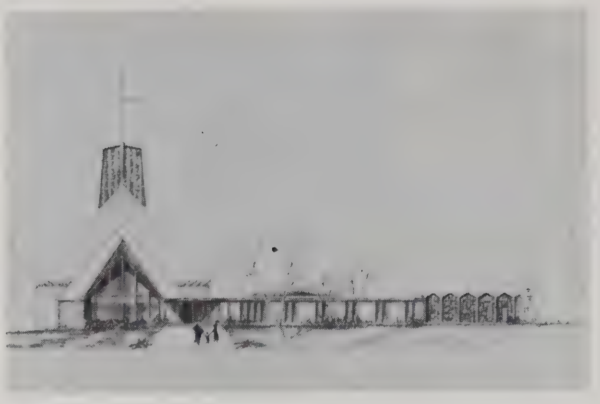
Christian Church, Nashville, Indiana



Herb Woollard

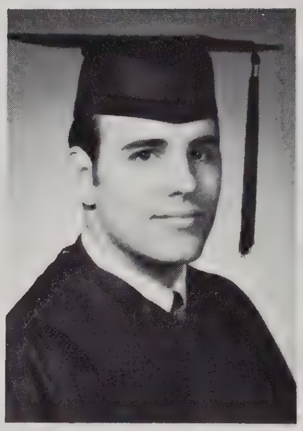
Warmest congratulations are sent to Herb Woollard from the Christian Church of Nashville, Indiana, where Herb serves as assistant minister. The church is proud of Herb and his work for the Lord, and look forward to the coming years when he will render even greater service for the Lord.

Encouragement



The Clovernook Christian Church Congratulates Bud Heidorn

Max R. Hickerson, Minister
Harvel Ayers, Asst. Minister



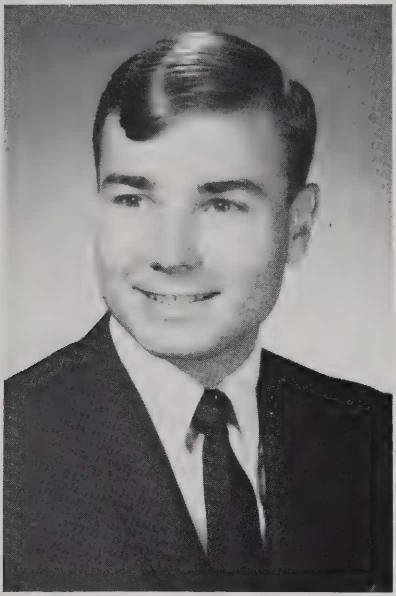
Tom O'Brien

As congratulations are being sent to the class of 1969 the Ogle Christian Church sends its best wishes to the class and to Tom O'Brien, their own graduate. The church is proud of the Timothies sent out from their congregation and follow their work closely. Their prayers are with the class and especially Tom that they might continue to find joy in the Lord's work.

On behalf of the Western Hills Church of Christ minister, Sam Stone, extends warmest congratulations and best wishes to his assistant minister, Richard Cain.

Richard Cain

From Those Who Care

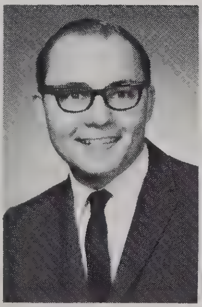


Bill Oliver

The First Christian Church of Springfield, Ohio, has two reasons to be proud of the 1969 graduating class. Miss Judy Johnson, a member of that congregation, is one of those graduating with the class. They are proud of Judy and the dedication of her life. The other special interest in the class is Bill Oliver. As their youth minister, the congregation has come to know and to love Bill. Bill has set a fine record at C.B.S. and has followed through at First Christian. Minister, John Wilson, and the congregation say, "Well done," to Judy and Bill.

Judy Johnson

From Grundy, Virginia



Congratulations
to
David Yuhasz

David Yuhasz's home church, the Grundy Church of Christ are proud to share in this joyous occasion. They wish him an abundantly fruitful life in the work of the Lord.

Our Leader

The Nautilus Yearbook Staff wishes to proclaim its adoration for our Adviser, Mr. Tom Friskney. His patience and understanding have been freely given to each of us. When we have any problems from copy blocks to II Corinthians, he always takes the time to answer our questions even though it means time and effort on his part. In the face of stern rebuke, we declare our love and respect for him.

The Hamersville Church of Christ wish to share their happiness at this time of Hugh Collier's graduation. Having recently served as assistant minister, Hugh has been a blessing to this church and they pray that he will continue to be successful in his Christian labor.

Rejoice With

Jeannette Kennedy

Jeanette Kennedy receives congratulations from her home church, the Dayton Church of Christ of Dayton, Kentucky. The entire congregation is pleased to acknowledge her achievements at The Cincinnati Bible Seminary. Her lovely personality has been a blessing these past four years.

David Black

At this wonderful time in the life of a Cincinnati Bible Seminary graduate, the Ferry Church of Christ of Waynesville, Ohio sends congratulations to its own David Black. May the Lord bless him abundantly.

These Seniors

Carolyn Wilson

From New Richmond, Ohio

To Carolyn Wilson comes word from the Christian Church of New Richmond, Ohio. This congregation is very proud of Carolyn because she has worked ardently with them in the labor of the Lord. Her leadership in this congregation has been undergirded with modesty and humbleness, along with the elements of her vibrant, warm personality. Her school friends will miss her as they separate this spring. Carolyn's zeal for the Lord has been a blessing to those who have known her.

The field of labor begins here in Cincinnati and includes the uttermost parts of the earth.

Afterword

It was only yesterday that act one began. Each day brought new ventures and excitement for unknowing freshmen. It seems it was only yesterday that as seniors we stepped forward to receive that precious diploma. Yesterday is gone. The curtain has fallen ending act one.

Act two soon began as the seniors departed from the hill. It was another beginning. It was now time to begin a life of fulltime labor for the Master even in the uttermost parts of the earth. Act one had equipped us to serve well throughout act two.

But the time shall come when act two shall end. Our yesterdays and todays shall be no more. But they shall determine our eternal tomorrows. The climax of act three shall depend on how we live these words, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths." Then shall we hear, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou has been faithful over a few things . . . enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."
